

I recommend against this petition. The Telco's have enough power without the FCC handing them more. We currently enjoy services that only the smaller ISP's provide. Granting petitions like these only serve to hand Internet service, and ultimately Voice comms (aka via VOIP), back to the monopolies with the lower levels of service they provide.